TAKE SOLEMN OATH OF OFFICE

Washington, March 4.—William McKinley of Ohio today for the second time took the oath as president of the United States.

Not since the time when the republican party endorsed another war president—Grant, has the chief magistrate succeeded himself until the present time. Not even was there such an imposing inaugural procession, so much enthusiasm nor were there so many spectators.

Mass Flags and Bunting.
Pennsylvania avenue between the treasury building and the capitol was a kaleidoscopic mass of color. In addition to a dozen or more public reviewing stands there were hundreds of private structures and fronts of stores and buildings. Senator Hanna, Spooner and Jones of Arkansas, Representatives Cannon, Dalzell and McRea composing the joint congressional committee called at the white house for the president at ten o'clock.

After receiving their congratulations the president stepped out of the front door, raising his hat in recognition of the cheer that went up and entered a waiting carriage, Hanna following. Then the march to the capitol began.

Scene in the Senate.
Ten minutes after the doors of the senate were opened the galleries were filled to the corridors. The buzz of conversation ceased as the nation's conversation ceased as the official crier announced the presence of the nation's jurists, ambassadors and ministers from foreign countries, who filed in attired in glittering court costumes, silken-gowned solemn judges of the supreme court, governors of states, members of the house, heads of executive departments, chief officers of the army and navy were all seated when the president and Theodore Roosevelt entered, escorted by the joint committee.

The president seated himself directly in front of the presiding officer's desk.

Roosevelt slipped to the rostrum and received the oath of office from President Pro-tem, Frye, who immediately declared the senate of the fifty-sixth congress to be adjourned sine die.

Roosevelt as Vice President.

Assuming the chair and gavel the new vice president announced that the senate of the fifty-seventh congress was convened in session extraordinary. After the prayer by the blind chaplain Roosevelt delivered his inaugural address which was very brief. He said:

"Great privileges and great powers bring heavy responsibilities that go with these privileges and powers accordingly as we do well or ill, so shall mankind in the future be raised or cast down. We belong to a young nation already a giant of strength, yet whose present strength is that forecast of power that is yet to come. We stand supreme in a continent, in a hemisphere and as keen-eyed we gaze into the coming years, new and old rise thick and fast to confront us from within and from without. Most deeply do I appreciate the privilege of my position, for the high honor to preside over the American senate at the out-set of the Twentieth century.

New Members Sworn In.
At the conclusion of the address the new members of the senate were sworn by the vice president. The distinguished audience led by Sergeant at Arms HRamsdell then filed out to the platform erected on the east front of the capitol. The president took the seat reserved for him beneath the canopy.

When quietude was obtained Chief Justice Fuller stepped forward while a sea of faces gazed in eagerness as the president with uplifted hand repeated the oath of office and pressed his lips to the Bible. The chief executive then read his inaugural address.

Reviewed the Parade.
The enthusiasm was tremendous as the last words of the president died away. The presidential and vice presidential parties then adjourned to the capitol where a luncheon was served while the troops and the civic bodies formed for the inaugural parade began to march.

On reaching the White House grounds the president ascended a stand and watched the organizations go by. This evening crowds will view more marching and fireworks and attend the inaugural ball in the pension building.

GREAT EXPANSION FESTIVAL.

Ceremonies of Inauguration Imbued New Scope and Significance.

Washington, D. C., March 4.—Robbed of much personal interest because the president is succeeding himself, the inauguration has taken on the part of a great republican expansion festival. As the plans for the inaugural ceremonies have unfolded today the scope and significance of the display have begun to stand out clearly. The scope places it on a scale of magnificence never before attempted at the inauguration of a president and vice president. The significance lies in the fact that all pains have been taken to make it appear as the inauguration of a new era.

AMERICAN TROOPS WILL QUIT PEKIN

Prepare to Leave—British, French and German Soldiers May Stay a Long Time.

Pekin, March 4.—The American troops' preparations for departure are going actively forward. All supplies, except enough for two companies, have been packed and marked for Manila.

The British plans contemplate a summer along the Pei-Ho and a general withdrawal of forces to India, leaving behind by next winter half a battalion of Welsh fusiliers as a legion guard in Pekin, together with an Indian regiment to guard the railroad.

The Germans show few signs of intention to depart, but they are endeavoring to sell 30,000 American and Australian horses, as well as a quantity of camels.

Action on the indemnity matter has been blocked by the French, Spanish and Italians, who insist upon the payment of sentimental and indirect claims by the Chinese. At a meeting of the ministers today Mr. Rockhill, the American representative, made strenuous but fruitless efforts to formulate some definite rule for the assessment of the indemnities.

SHOWED HER LEG TO JURORS.

Plaintiff Exhibited Injured Member to Twelve Eager Married Men.

Wayland, N. Y., March 3.—Mrs. Frances May Fennell, a divorced woman, who formerly lived in Geneva, this state slipped on an icy sidewalk in front of the residence of Allen E. Randle, a retired merchant, in the village of Springwater, four miles north of here, and fractured her leg three inches above the ankle in November. She sued Randall for $2,500 damages.

The case was tried on Saturday afternoon and evening before Justice of the Peace Charles M. Fuller and a jury composed of married men. Dr. B. G. Leavitt, a witness for the plaintiff, was explaining how the bones of the leg were affected by a fracture, Clinton A. Rogers, attorney for Mrs. Fennell, stated to the court that, in order to make the explanation clearer, Mrs. Fennell would show the injured leg to the jury.

"She will not," replied Justice Fuller. "I cannot turn my courtroom into a Black Crook show."

"If your honor please," remarked T. L. Roynton, foreman, "I should like to see that leg."

"And so should I," chorused the other married men.

The leg was shown, and at 11:20 o'clock last evening, ten minutes after the case was given to the jury, Mrs. Fennell received the judgment asked for in her complaint.

John McArthur, janitor at the Douglas school, filed a claim for damages, with the city clerk on Saturday. He fell on a sidewalk on Pleasant street, east of Terrace, and broke his arm above the wrist.

PEOPLE OF LONDON SCORE A VICTORY

Tremendous Majority in Favor of Municipal Ownership—The Big Monopolies Are Broken.

London, March 4.—The municipal election in London Saturday resulted in a tremendous victory for municipal ownership. All the public utilities of London will now go ahead.

The people will own the water, gas light and transportation, taking the present plants out of the hands of private companies.

As the national government already owns the telegraph and is installing telephones, all of the public utilities will soon be under public control. Yesterday's election was principally fought over the water question.

London's water supply is now owned by several water companies, notably the New River company, dating back to the time of Charles the Second. The profits are enormous the shares showing the highest premiums of any in the world.

PAT CROWE WRITES ANOTHER LETTER

Alleged Kidnap of the Cudahy Boy Now Declares He Will Not Give Himself Up.

Omaha, Neb., March 4.—A local paper will publish tomorrow morning a letter signed Pat Crowe, postmarked at Denison, Ia., and Chief of Police Donahue pronounces the letter genuine, he being familiar with Crowe's handwriting. The letter is in part as follows:

"I am innocent of the Cudahy kidnaping. I am not a fugitive from justice, I am a fugitive from injustice. I originally intended to tell Mr. Cudahy in person that I did not kidnap his son, but changed my mind as sentiment was too strong against me. I intended to give myself up but now all thoughts of that have vanished. My reason is fear of injustice. The next man that tries to job me will fail."

RIVER AND HARBORS TALKED TO DEATH

That Important Bill Failed With the Adjournment of Congress Today—Charter for Woman's Clubs.

Washington, March 4.—The closing hours of the fifty-sixth congress were characterized by the defeat of the river and harbor bill which in the senate was talked to death by Carter of Montana.

The conference report on the sundry civil bill with the Buffalo and Charleston appropriations was also adopted and later the president signed the measure. The house passed the District of Columbia bill and one grant-a charter to National Federation of Woman's clubs. It refused to yield on the rivers and harbors and sent it back to the conference where it died.

JEALOUS MAN KILLS HIMSELF.

First Shoots His Wife and Tries to Slay Her Male Caller.

Beloit, Wis., March 4.—Homer Payne, after trying to kill his wife and Arthur Cady of whom he was jealous, took his own life Saturday afternoon. Payne quarreled with his wife and left home some months ago. Returning today he found Cady at his home and fired one shot at him. The bullet struck a razor in Cady's pocket, and was deflected. Then Payne fired twice at his wife wounding her in the head and arm. Then he went into a room laid down on a sofa and sent a bullet into his own brain.

While at work yesterday Payne told a shopmate that it was probably the last work that he would do. Payne was 45 years old and leaves six children.

OUT ON AN ICE FLOE

Seventeen Men Rescued with Great Difficulty—Four Others Are Probably Lost.

Silver Creek, N. Y., March 4.—Twenty-one fishermen were carried out on Lake Erie off Silver Creek yesterday afternoon on floating ice, but seventeen of them were rescued. The other four have probably perished. Their names are Henry Turner, John George, James McBratle and Julius Ludwig. The last seen of the four men they were still on the ice, but a high wind was blowing up a big sea and the ice was fast breaking up. They were about four miles out. The seventeen who were rescued were taken off the floating ice with great difficulty.

Thomas Thompson was put under $200 bonds in the municipal court to keep the peace. D. Q. Stark was the complaining witness, and the case has been on trial for several days. Charles E. Pierce appeared for the state and T. S. Nolan for the defense.

OUTLOOK PLEASES THE PRESIDENT

Inaugural Address Sums
Up the Past Four Years with Satisfaction.

PROMISES FOR FUTURE

The Great Republican Party
for Sound Money, Expansion and Prosperity.

CUBA AND THE PHILIPPINES

Washington, March 4.—William McKinley, of Ohio, today was inducted into the presidential office, being the eighth in the illustrious line of presidents of the United States thus honored by the American people with a second and consecutive term. Simultaneously Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, became vice president of the United States. The ceremony that marked this second assumption by President McKinley of the cares of state was most impressive and full of suggestion of the development of the republic during the past four years. Every presidential inauguration in recent years has had its parade, always creditable in size and variety, and usually having some distinctive feature. That which followed President McKinley today on his return from the capitol to the White House, and passed in review there before him, was different from all its predecessors in the majestic predominance of the military feature, the civilians not aggregating more than 25 per cent.

As the president turned to the multitude to deliver his inaugural address a hush fell upon the crowd that was one of the most impressive incidents of the day. He spoke as follows:

McKinley's Inaugural Address.
My fellow Citizens: When we assembled here on the 4th of March, 1897, there was great anxiety with regard to our currency and credit. None exists now. Then our treasury receipts were inadequate to meet the current obligations of the government. Now they are sufficient for all public needs, and we have a surplus instead of a deficit. Then I felt constrained to convene the congress in extraordinary session to devise revenues to pay the ordinary expenses of the government. Now I have the satisfaction to announce that the congress just closed has reduced taxation in the sum of $41,000,000. Then there was deep solicitude because of the long depression in our manufacturing, mining, agricultural and mercantile industries and the consequent distress of our laboring population. Now every avenue of production is crowded with activity, labor is well employed, and American products find good markets at home and abroad.

Our diversified productions, however, are increasing in such unprecedented volume as to admonish us of the necessity of still further enlarging our foreign markets by broader commercial relations. For this purpose reciprocal trade arrangements with other nations should be liberal spirit be carefully cultivated and promoted.

The national verdict of 1896 has for the most part been executed. What ever remain unfulfilled is a continuing obligation resting with undiminished force, upon the executive and the congress. It is fortunate as our condition is, it permanence can only be assured by sound business methods and strict economy in national administration and legislation. We should not permit our great prosperity to lead us to reckless ventures in business or profligacy in public expenditures.

PRIMARY BILL WILL PASS THE HOUSE

Assembly Committee Will Report Unanimously for It—A Substitute Has Been Drawn.

Madison, Wis., March 4.—The last week was not particularly productive of results in the legislature. It was hoped by many of the members that a report would be made on the primary election bill, but now this will not come until the middle of this week.

Executive sessions are being held by the assembly committee. An unanimous report is expected although it is reported that Assemblyman "Ikey" Karel of former football fame may dissent. The measure undoubtedly will be made the special order for some day and will pass the house easily. There will be no report on the measure until after the house committee has acted.

A substitute has been drawn up by the opponents of the measure in the hope of a compromise and is now in the hands of Senator Gaveney, son-in-law of Judge E. W. Keyes.

A bill on which quite a fight is expected this week is that of Senator Mosher to do away with insurance on public building. A factor which may cut considerable figure in the contest is the statement made by Assemblyman Keene in the debate last week on the bill to restore the Wisconsin battle flags in the new library building to the capitol.

He said expert builders had made the statement that the capitol, while not a fire trap, was decidedly unsafe and so poorly protected that if a fire once got started that it would only smother.

An absence that is noticed about the legislative halls at this session is the absence of lobbyists in favor of the liquor interests.

VATICAN WILL AID IN PHILIPPINES

Archbishop Chapelle Says Religious Conflict Must Be Avoided—Friars Not Hostile.

Manila, March 4.—Archbishop Chapelle, who is here on a special mission under instructions from the vatican, today spoke of his work and the plans he intends to put into effect as soon as possible. As to his mission the Archbishop said:

"First, I came here to reorganize and to place her in a position similar church affairs on American lines, and to place her in a position similar to the line that she now holds in the United States.

Second, to accomplish this I will do my utmost to bring American priests here as soon as possible, and the friars will not oppose them. On the contrary they will be pleased if a goodly number come and they promise to do everything toward their maintenance and their instruction in the character and needs of the Filipinos.

"While I may not fully have agreed with the policy of the authorities during the last sixteen months, yet I have not said or written a single word that would weaken their influence. I am always ready to place powerful moral influence at the service of the authorities for peace, order, and Christian civilization."

GERMANS WANT TO TRAVEL VERY FAST

Herr Ratenau, the Electrician, Has Plans for Electric Train to Make 210 Miles an Hour.

Over in Germany they are going to try the experiment of traveling 210 miles an hour by rail. Herr Ratenau, president of the Berlin Society for Generating Electricity, has laid his plans before the emperor, and an experimental military road has been authorized. This road will run between Berlin and Zossen, a distance of 21 miles. As it will be built immediately, the world will not have long to wait for a demonstration of the success or failure of this attempt to travel at such marvelous speed.

Herr Ratenau's project was for the connecting of all the principal cities of Germany with an electric railroad over which the trains should run at a speed of 210 miles an hour when making schedule time. The emperor said, "Try a little road first, and let us see how the scheme works," hence the building of the road from Berlin to Zossen.

Eminent electricians declare that there is nothing to prevent such a speed being developed, the only obstacles being the elements and the human organism. The railway cars would have to be of special construction and hermetically sealed when traveling at top speed, for no human being could stand the rush of air which such a terrible pace would cause.

Even in a hermetically sealed car 210 miles an hour might be some the effect of traveling at the rate of thing which could not be borne by the ordinary man. Then there would be the tendency of the train traveling at such terrific speed to leap from the track. The cars would have to be built with great strength, especially as regards their running gear, and the rails would have to be "of more than ideal perfection."

The celebrated Russian electrician, Voynarovski of the Electro Technical institute at St. Petersburg, has expressed doubts as to the possibility of putting Herr Ratenau's project in practical shape, though he admits that the proposed speed could be obtained theoretically with ease. The question is to find the men and materials to stand the strain of such rapid traveling.

The military railroad which the emperor has authorized to be built between Berlin and Zossen will be equipped with electricity as a motive power anyway, though it may not be that it will become a 210 mile an hour road. Herr Ratenau will simply be allowed to try his experiments upon it. A speed of 90 miles an hour, it is said, has already been made on an electric road, but 210—the world doubts.

Beasts and Brutes.

Dumb animals have a hard time of it, whether they fall into the hands of Pagan or Christian. It constantly surprises me that all these centuries of Christianity have not brought about a more humane treatment of the brute creation. If thinking people would take more pains to show sympathy for the woes of dumb creatures, and more interest in the movements for their benefit, no end of good would come of it; and not to the animals alone, for we all know that the cultivation of kind and tender feelings in the heart of man means a refining influence on society.

If I was assigned to the committee to arrange the International Sunday school lessons, I would propose to have one Sunday in each month devoted to the study of animal life and history; to teaching the true relations of the lower orders of creatures to man, and the Christian duty of kindly treating all God's speechless creatures. Think how interesting the subject, how broad its compass, what a knowledge and love of nature a wise handling of it would develop. There is no lack of Bible texts for leaders, and no need of straying from the principles that underlie the Sermon on the Mount.

The children read that Christ was born in a manger. Tell them, as Dr. Talmage said in a sermon on the Nativity, that he was born in a stable; that the infant Saviour lived the first day of His life with the dogs, the asses, the camels, the cows, and the oxen all about Him; that He came to alleviate suffering, as well as to bring peace and good will to men; and the dumb beasts that were crowded into that barn, with all the animals they represent, have a share in the hope and joy of His coming. Tell them that the Christ today knows how these helpless Sake."

THE FRANCIS MURPHY LEAGUE

Interesting and Largely Attended Meeting Held Yesterday.

The meeting of the Francis Murphy League held yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. auditorium was one of the most interesting and largely attended meetings of the season. Horace McElroy was the principal speaker, and gave an exceedingly interesting talk on the evils of intemperance. William Ingalls, who has been a member of the league for the past two years, also addressed the meeting, and gave an interesting talk on his experiences before and after he quit drinking. He gave the league credit for his reformation and said he intended doing all in his power to help swell the list of league members.

The league is growing every day, and is doing immense good in saving young men from intemperance. They should be given all the assistance possible by the people of the city in the furtherance of this work. The Y. M. C. A. quartet were present and added much to the pleasure of those assembled.

OLD SOLDIERS' COLONY

Co-operative Agricultural Settlement Has Been Projected—For Homes in Oklahoma.

E. G. Harlow is one of the happiest men in the city of Janesville. Generally when a man is informed by his employers that he is to be retired from service without even the chance of tendering his resignation he does not consider it an occasion for rejoicing but Mr. Harlow is quite jubilant over the fact that for the first time in his busy life he is a gentleman of leisure.

E. G. Harlow has been in the employ of the Northwestern company for over thirty-five years. For over thirty-one years he was night foreman at the Janesville roundhouse and then when his health began to show the effects of his arduous duties and the night work he was given charge of the storekeeper's department going on duty in the day time.

Mr. Harlow's commission of retirement reads that he is to receive a pension for life for faithful service to the Chicago & Northwestern company. These pensions are granted with the understanding that the retired employees may accept salaried employment without affecting the pensions.

Mr. Harlow also draws a pension from the government for injuries received in the civil war. His place at the roundhouse will probably not be filled but his work will be divided among the other employees.

BRIGHT PROMISES OF THE COMING SPRING

Indications About Town That Another Season is On—Strawberries and Tomatoes.

Bright promises of the coming spring were evidenced yesterday, not only in the beauty of the weather overhead, but even more pronouncedly in the windows of the groceries where a specialty is made of fancy goods. There was quite an abundance of strawberries which looked quite attractive in comparison with the wintry aspect of the shush covered streets. The berries brought forty cents a box and ought to have been with the money from an artistic standpoint, no matter what the flavor or was, for they offered a marvelous combination in coloring, each berry being radiant in the various hues of green and pink nicely shaded up to quite a respectable red.

But if the strawberries did not look especially luscious and juicy there was an array of other delicacies that were more tempting to the eye and more satisfying to the palate. Rich red tomatoes, which required no label either for appearance or flavor, were quite in demand at twenty-five cents a pound and cucumbers that were no disgrace to their successors of the coming summer sold for fifteen cents each.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE AT EVANSVILLE

Interest in the Annual Meeting Has Grown Steadily—Papers Read at the Meeting Saturday.

Evansville, Wis., March 4.—One of the most interesting of Union Township's yearly events to which not only farmers but the residents of Evansville look forward to is the farmers' institute. Since the first session of the institute a few years ago, this annual meeting has steadily grown in interest and importance because of the hearty co-operation of the farmers and their families for the success of the meeting.

They seem to be alert to every good thing and give the impression that they are a most progressive people. The preparations for the event in progress for several weeks under the supervision of President W. H. Gillies and to his untiring efforts is due much of the success of the present meeting.

The meeting was opened Saturday morning at 10:30. Mrs. Addie F. Howie of Elm Grove gave a very interesting and instructive talk on "Cleanliness in Dairying." Mrs. Howie believes cleanliness to be one of the most essential things to be considered in successful dairying.

In a paper on the subject of Poultry Mrs. Etta Savage gave an account of her experience in that line.

Spirited discussion led by Mrs. Howie followed this paper, several speaking of their own experience and other asking questions. The afternoon session was begun on time and with increased attendance, the townspeople turning out in large numbers to hear the program.

The regular order of business was taken up after music.

Will Campbell, the president of the Evansville fair association made brief opening remarks and stating that the old association was going to disband. Upon hearing this a motion was made and carried that a meeting of the farmers and townspeople be held next Saturday and provide some means by which the county fair could be retained at Evansville.

Lyman Gillies was the next on the program with a paper, "The Short Course in Agriculture." Mr. Gillies not being able to be there on account of sickness the paper was read by the president. Mr. Gillies believes agriculture to be the bed-rock of civilization and what ever hinders or cripples in any way the prosperity of the farmer, hinders all other branches of industry; and therefore no education is too good for the farmer. It also gave an interesting account of the various branches taught at the experimental station at Madison.

Supt. King of Madison discussed "Ventilation" and with the charts used it was demonstrated to those present that it was essential that our cattle barns have good ventilation if we wanted the best returns from our stock.

SNOW BOTHERS THE STREET RAILWAY CO.

Impossible to Make Schedule Time With the Snow and Ice Clogging the Track.

Probably to no local business enterprise does the breaking up of winter mean more financially than to the Janesville Street Railway Company. Certainly no man will be more pleased to see bare ground than Supt. Hurd.

For the past few days the cars have found it impossible to make schedule time and for three-quarters of an hour Saturday the entire line was tied up by the "grounding" of the Main street car. The cars were widely separated at the time the accident occurred and it took some time to locate the trouble.

The melting of the snow between the tracks and at the sides of the rails was responsible for this tie-up and will be the cause of much damage to the cars unless the snow goes off with a rush. The motors are water tight but the snow damages the cables and the diverters. It also requires constant vigilance to keep the switches cleaned out, as they rapidly fill up with the melting snow.

It may be of some interest to know that during the month just past it cost the street railway $100 dollars to keep seven miles of track clear from snow. On several occasions a force of men, together with the scraper, was kept working night and day, meals were served at the power house and it required every vigilance to keep the cars running. These efforts have met with creditable success when the amount of snow which has fallen during the past six weeks is taken into consideration.

Gough—Moore Wedding. On Monday, Feb. 25, 1901, at four o'clock, the Rev. J. Woodward spoke the words that united Mr. John Gough and Miss Rhoda J. Moore in the holy bonds of matrimony. Miss Rhoda is the oldest daughter of Mr.

KENT AND CRANE FORM PARTNERSHIP

Well Known Local Residents Comprise the New Firm—Carry a Large Stock.

Under the name of Kent & Crane, a new firm enters the local business field. The Kent Paint Company is no more and in its place the new firm of Kent & Crane assumes charge, occupying the same spacious quarters at No. 2 North River street. This new business enterprise is comprised of well known local residents who need no introduction. For the past thirty-two years Mr. Kent has been in the paint, wall paper and decorative business in Janesville.

His acquaintance extends over the entire county. Mr. Crane is the son of Henry Crane and for the past few years has been in the employ of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad company. He possesses all the hustling ability that is necessary to aid in carrying such a business to success.

Kent & Crane enter the local business field with several large contracts to their credit for work to be done this spring. A host of acquaintances will join in wishing the new firm prosperity.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Eugene A. Eberle, one of the veterans of the stage and a member of the Otis Skinner company which is to appear here March 12, in Mr. Skinner's new play, "Prince Otto," has just learned to smoke. He assumes the part of a German peasant, and in the course of the first act he smokes one of those long pipes so peculiarly German. It was the first time in his forty years on the stage that Mr. Eberle had been called on to smoke, and for weeks before the opening of the engagement he practiced, to the great detriment of his comfort. He was sick every time he touched the weed for the first two weeks, then gradually he grew accustomed to it, and now he can handle tobacco with as much familiarity as an old timer.

Wm. A. Brady will send out two, and perhaps three, companies, early in September, to present Clyde Fitch's play, "Lovers' Lane," which managers regard as another "Way Down East" in a commercial sense, and likely to gain as wide and enduring popularity.

Directly the Appletons announced a new romance entitled "Betsy Ross," they were flooded with managerial applications for the dramatic rights. These, however, had been safeguarded by Wm. A. Brady and Joseph R. Grismer, who had previously arranged for a play of that name to be produced in Philadelphia next April.

The southern senators have had their mouths sealed up by plasters of rich river and harbor appropriation. Texas is particularly fortunate.

to buy a nice DRESS SKIRT. A prominent New York maker's entire SAMPLE LINE sold to us. The agent only had them out a short time when he was suddenly called home and had to dispose of his samples. They are in excellent condition and all the newest styles are represented. The lot consists of about 90 SKIRTS and we have marked them at PRICES that will move them. There is but one of a kind. Ten rainy day skirts among them.

Black Taffeta Skirts,

most complete line we have had. Original styles that will not be common. No matter where you look you cannot find as pretty creations for the prices asked. PRICES 8, 9, 10, 14, 16, 18, $25. Our 25 dollar skirt is the same that you would see in Chicago marked at 35 or 40 dollars.

Rainy Day Skirts.

when we stop to think of it it surprises us—the numbers of RAINY DAY skirts that we sell. We have given a great deal of attention to them and know from the immense quantities we sell, that we are headquarters. We start them at $2.00, others at 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 9, and 10 dollars.

Tailor Made Suits.

the spring season has commenced. Already we have sold a liberal lot of suits, because we got them early and have been prepared for all demands. Women have learned where to go for READY TO WEAR SUITS and our present large showings of suits at TEN to THIRTY FIVE DOLLARS, will greatly strengthen our position as foremost handlers of ready made tailor made suits.

Waists, Both Silk and Wool

All of the newest effects—you can come here and be fitted out with a suit and waist, walk up the street and surprise your most intimate friends; it can all be done so quickly. Our WAISTS are models of beauty. We bought them from several different houses, picked out good things from each line. It is a delight and at the same time posts one on what are correct in waists, to look through our beautiful assortment.

Our Best Energies

we have been exerting to reduce our stock of winter goods and we are still working to that end. WINTER GARMENTS, many excellent things left in cloth and fur, JACKETS and CAPES. Just 8 astrakhan jackets left. $30.00 jackets go at $23.00. $35.00 jackets go at $23.00. $38.00 jackets go at $25.00. Just 2 full length automobiles in rich brown shades $35 now $22. Fur capes, about ten left in monkey, wool seal, electric, astrakhan. Box coats and jackets, excellent things left for women, misses, children. Cloth and plush capes, rare bargains that should not be overlooked. Elderly women can find just what they want in long heavy capes that are comfortable and at figures extremely low.

CABINET A LUNCH FIRST FORMAL FUNCTION OF NEW ADMINISTRATION.

McKinley Presented with a Commemorative Medal of the Present Inauguration—Senator Dewey Entertains—Admiral Dewey Refuses to Act—McKinley's Cabinet Resigns.

Washington, D. C., March 4.—While President McKinley was in the hands of the inaugural committee practically all day he acted as host at a luncheon to the members of his cabinet, which was given in the president's room of the capitol building immediately after the inauguration ceremony. It was the first formal function of the new administration and it was deemed fitting by the president that his guests at this the first luncheon he gave in his second term should be the cabinet officers who succeed themselves after years of service with him. This has been a favorite plan of President McKinley's for some time and he looked forward to this little luncheon with almost as much pleasure as he had to the formal inauguration ceremony. It was necessarily brief, as the president and his cabinet had to take part in the great parade which followed the inauguration. The luncheon was served while the preliminaries of the parade were getting under way. Mrs. McKinley was hostess at a similar luncheon at which fifty women, including all those known socially as the "cabinet ladies," were the guests. It was practically a complement of the luncheon given to their husbands at the same hour by the president and, of course, carried out the same idea of being the first formal luncheon of the second administration. The guests, besides the wives and some of the daughters of the cabinet members, included the ladies of the diplomatic corps, and the occasion was fully as formal and at the same time memorable as the luncheon given by the president to his advisers.

The president did not go to the capitol to attend to the signing of late bills till about 10:30 o'clock today. He had more than an hour for this work before the inaugural ceremonies began.

The president has many of his relatives with him and they will remain for several days. Miss Helen McKinley and Mrs. Duncan, the president's sisters, are among the number. Mr. and Mrs. Abner McKinley, Dr. and Mrs. Baer and others came also.

MEDAL FOR MCKINLEY.
President Receives Souvenir of His Second Inauguration.

Washington, D. C., March 4.—General Ellis Spear, chairman of the inauguration on medals and badges, visited the White House and on behalf of Chairman Edison of the inaugural committee presented to President McKinley a commemorative medal of the present inauguration. The medal is similar to that struck for the members of the several inaugural committees, being cast in gold, however, instead of bronze. General Spear also presented to the chief executive a handsomely bound copy of the inaugural souvenir book containing the pictures of all presidents of the United States and an account of the inauguration exercises attending the taking of office of each. A gold medal and souvenir also were presented to Vice-President Roosevelt. The third gold medal has been presented to Chairman Edison of the inaugural committee. General Francis Vinton Greene, grand marshal of the inaugural parade, was presented with a beautiful marshal's baton of dark mahogany, studded with forty-five gold stars, representative of the states in the union. It is eighteen inches long and heavily mounted with gold at both ends.

Senator Dewey Entertains.

Senator Dewey and Miss Paulding entertained at dinner last evening in honor of Vice President-elect and Mrs. Roosevelt. The guests were Secretary and Mrs. Root, Senator and Mrs. Lodge, Senator and Mrs. Elkins, Major General the Hon. and Mrs. Eaton of London, Mrs. Sheridan, General and Mrs. Green, Mrs. Kernochan, Commander and Mrs. Cowles, Lady Cunard of London, Mrs. Paget, Miss Johnson, Frederic Harrison, Mr. Smalley of the London Times, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cassatt, Mr. Van Allen, Senator Bacon, and Senator Daniel.

Soldiers Run to a Fire.

There was a fire on Fourteenth street about noon yesterday. Pennsylvania avenue was full of Pennsylvania soldiers. When the fire engines went up the hill fully 500 soldiers chased after them. The soldiers are from the country and are used to running to fires.

DEWEY REFUSES TO ACT.
Declines Gen. Miles' Invitation to Help Receive at Ball.

Washington, March 2.—Admiral Dewey has refused to serve under General Miles as a member of the reception committee for the inaugural ball. Gen. Miles is chairman of the committee and the gossip is that Admiral Dewey was piqued by the precedence given to him. The admiral's full letter of refusal was sent to the secretary of the inaugural committee. It follows:

"Dear Dingman: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter notifying me of my designation by Lieutenant General Miles to act as a member of the reception committee at the inaugural ball. My health is just now so poor that I cannot make any engagement to be present at the ball as my physician is very anxious that I should go south as soon as I am able to travel."

WAR ON SWEAT SHOPS.

Movement Started for the Abolition of The System.

New York, March 4.—The executive committee of the Brotherhood of Tailors decided last night to ask Bishop Potter, President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, Prof. Felix Adler, Henry White, general secretary of the United Garment Workers of America, and other prominent citizens to head a movement of 200,000 east side men, women and children for the abolition of the sweating system. It was decided to call a big mass meeting to be addressed by leading citizens of all classes, at which the legislature will be asked to adopt amendments to the factory inspection law which will bring about the complete abolition of the sweating system in this city.

The members of the committee were instructed by the officers of the brotherhood last night to call a convention of delegates for the purpose of taking similar action for the abolition of the sweating system in Philadelphia, Chicago, Boston, Baltimore, Rochester, Cincinnati, Syracuse, St. Louis and Utah.

A meeting of the 'Garment Workers' trades council will be held today to take further action in the movement started by the Brotherhood of Tailors. The council has jurisdiction over 40,000 clothing workers in Greater New York.

"The greatest movement for the abolition of the sweating system ever known in this country has now been started," said Henry Wachsmann, leader of the Brotherhood of Tailors. "The United Garment Workers of America have decided to back us up in this movement. It will receive powerful starting impetus in this city and then spread all over the country in all large clothing centers where strong organizations of clothing workers exist."

"Through this movement we shall be able to avoid a big strike of 40,000 clothing workers in this city, which would cause great suffering and misery among 200,000 east side men, women, and children."

The last meeting of the cabinet of the first McKinley administration was consumed chiefly in congratulations over the record of the past four years and a discussion of the president's inaugural address, as completed.

Bad Tiger Knocked Out by Donkey.

Indianapolis, March 4.—Rajah, the man-killing tiger, which tore Albert Neilson to pieces two weeks ago, escaped from his cage in quarters here, where Frank Bostock's men are training wild animals for the Pan-American exposition, and made his way to the arena, which is surrounded by animal cages.

An animal, which is a cross between a donkey and a zebra, saw the tiger approaching. It whined about, and with terrible kicks knocked the tiger unconscious. The tiger was then put into a cage. Meantime Bonavita, the lion tamer, had put another bullet into Rajah. He got seven bullets while killing Neilson.

FIRST REAL MOVE FOR ELECTRIC ROAD

Articles of Incorporation for the Beloit, Delavan and Janesville Road Filed.

PURPOSE OF COMPANY

Thomas S. Nolan, Jesse Earle and Edw. H. Peterson Sign Articles as Incorporators.

BELOIT WILL ACT TONIGHT

The first real move in this vicinity in regard to the electric railway between this city and Rockford, outside of securing options on property between these cities was made this morning when the articles of incorporation of the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville railway were filed in the office of the register of deeds for Rock county.

Under the laws of the state of Wisconsin the incorporators have to be residents of the state and Thomas S. Nolan, Jesse Earle and Edward H. Peterson appear in the articles as incorporators. The capital stock is placed at $100,000, divided into 1,000 shares of $100 each.

The object of the company as set forth in the articles of incorporation are to build, construct, operate, maintain, purchase, lease and acquire a railway or railways for carrying persons and property, including mail, express matter, baggage and freight and to furnish light, heat and power.

Duties of the Officers.

The officers of the company as set forth in the articles of incorporation will be a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and three directors whose duties shall be the same as the officers in other companies of this kind. Sutherland & Nolan are the attorneys for the company in this city and will look out for the interests of the road at this end of the route. The headquarters of the road were given in the articles of incorporation as being at Beloit.

H. H. Clough of Elgin, Ohio and his attorney, Edward H. Carter of Chicago have been in the city for the last two days consulting with local parties in regard to this project. Mr. Clough is well up in electric railway matters and has gone over the ground very carefully before making any definite move in the matter.

He has had his agents at work securing options on the property between here and Beloit which will be crossed by the proposed line and has been very successful so far in securing options. Only a small portion of the proposed route is yet to be secured and they anticipate no great trouble in getting options on the remaining property.

Reasons for Incorporating.

Mr. Clough's idea in incorporating his company in this state at his time is to get around any objection that might be raised to granting them a franchise on the ground that they were not incorporated and were not earnest in their proposition to build a road. Some of their opponents have said that they were simply trying to get a franchise and right of way across the county and would then simply sell it out to other parties who would build the road.

Mr. Clough says that this is not their intention but as soon as they can secure a franchise from the city of Beloit they will be in shape to build the road at once.

This application for a franchise will come up before the council in Beloit this evening and they are confident that a right of way will be granted them.

They wish to get the Beloit matter settled before they make any move to secure a franchise from the city of Janesville. So far Beloit has been the only obstacle in the way of their constructing the line. The line would have been built last year and would have been in operation before this time if they had been able to secure a franchise from that city.

Line Will Be Modern

The line which the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville road propose to build will be a modern one in every particular. Seventy pound rails will be used and large vestibuled cars with double motors and fitted with all the modern appliances such as air brakes and safety devices will be used.

On account of its being a single line track turn-outs will be built at intervals along the road to allow the cars to pass when going in opposite directions. The line will be fitted with a system of block signals which will show whether the car coming from the opposite direction is on the turnout or is on its way to meet the car then at the switch. Everything will be done to promote the comfort and safety of its patrons.

Will Go on to Madison.

Janesville will not be the terminal of the road as it is the intention of the incorporators to continue it on next year to Milton, Milton Junction, Edgerton, Stoughton and Madison. It is the intention of the promoters of the road to ask for a franchise from the city of Janesville for a right of way through the city from the southerly limits to a point on the other side of the city where they can continue on their extension to Madison.

Mr. Clough stated that the electric roads now operating in Ohio and the east, met with the same opposition from cities along the line as they are now meeting in Wisconsin, but after they were once built they realized how much good they were getting out of them and would not have them abandoned for any money. Their value to a farming community could not be estimated, unlike a steam railroad line they will stop and leave or take on passengers at almost any point along the line and farmers living a mile or two from the right of way know just what time a car passes a cross road and can be there to take advantage of it.

Children living in the country can be sent to the city to school by this means as easily as they could go to the nearest district school and in fact they benefit the farmer in a thousand ways.

Cars Every Forty Minutes.
It is the intention of the promoters of the road to adopt a schedule whereby a car will be run every forty minutes giving its patrons the best of service.

Mr. Clough and Mr. Nolan left this morning on the 11:40 train for Beloit to be present at a meeting of the council this evening to present their claims. In case they are successful they will at once make preparations for the building of their road to the points named in their articles of incorporation. The other extensions will follow as soon as the lines now in view are completed.

BUMS AND ROWDIES GATHER AT DEPOT

NIGHT TICKET AGENT F. LENTZ HAS A ROW WITH THEM.

The Two Passenger Stations Have Got to Be a Regular Hanging Out Place for Plug Uglies, and Flirty Girls—Nightly Scenes of Rowdiness and Depredation.

Frank Lentz, the night ticket agent at the Chicago & Northwestern passenger station has a bad looking face; caused by blows he received Saturday night about 11:30 o'clock while trying to eject some disorderly characters from the passenger station. Around noticed some girls hanging around ladies' waiting room and saw them walk into the toilet room. Shortly afterwards two young men appeared and went into the room after them.

Lentz went out of his office to the toilet room and ordered them out. One of the young men by the name of McConnell told him that he would get out when he got ready and a war of words ensued. Finally Lentz told him to get out or he would kick him out and started toward him. McConnell had a bolt handy and threw it at Lentz striking him in the side and cutting his vest. Lentz picked up the bolt and threw it back at McConnell but without effect.

By this time McConnell and the girls had left the toilet room and Lentz started out after them. As he passed through the door McConnell's pal, a young man by the name of Heller, struck him a severe blow on the back of the head, hurting him badly and as he came out of the toilet room into the waiting McConnell pounced on him and struck him several blows in the face, cutting his chin and cheek and blacking his eye.

Lentz got away by this time and the parties left the station. He telephoned for an officer but by the time that one arrived the parties were gone. It is said that he cause of the whole trouble was the sister of one of the parties to the fracas hanging around the station and her brother went in after her to send her home and was trying to make her go when Lentz appeared, he did not understand the situation and trouble resulted. About the time that Lentz and McConnell were having the trouble another brother of the young woman appeared on the scene and took her in charge and dragged her home.

Mr. Lentz says that not a night passes that he does not have trouble with rowdies and bums at the station. He is not able to cope with all of them and thinks that he city should furnish them some protection if it was nothing more than appointing the night-baggage man to special policeman. Then there would be some one there who would have the authority to arrest the disorderly parties.

CANNING FACTORY PROMOTERS HERE

Will Be in the City This Afternoon and Tomorrow to Interview The Farmers.

P. Hohenadel, Jr., and J. A. Klundt of Cassville, Wis., P. A. Marsh of Chicago, P. M. Sussemehl of Davenport, Ia., and Lewis Jackson, industrial commissioner of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad arrived in the city this morning on business connected with the canning factory.

Messrs. Hohenadel, Marsh and Sussemehl spent the afternoon at Walter Helm's seed store interviewing the farmers from the surrounding country in regard to furnishing them produce for their factory.

They have printed contracts with them which they are distributing among the farmers setting forth what they will accept and in what shape they will agree to receive it.

PRISON CHAPLAIN BENEFITED.

W. F. Hayes, the Well-Known Optician Called to Waupun.

W. F. Hayes, the competent optician with F. C. Cook & Co., is home from a visit to the state penitentiary at Waupun where he was called to fit glasses to the chaplain of the prison.

This is a compliment that Mr. Hayes may well feel proud of as many competent opticians reside near the Prison City. Three years ago the chaplain was much benefited by Mr. Hayes and he was loud in his praise for the valuable services rendered by the Janesville optician.

At a recent meeting of the Wisconsin Optical society Mr. Hayes received the appointment of chairman of the examining board, a position which carries with it much responsibility.

The good news has been received in this city of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Stoller of Omaha, Neb. The little one came on Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. Stoller are both former well known young people of this city, the proud father being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stoller. His wife will be remembered as Miss Eva Mayhew, daughter of W. T. Mayhew.

I have the agency for Alfred Peats & Co.'s celebrated wall papers, which have been sold throughout the country so long, they have a reputation of their own, and will compare favorably with any on the market in price and design. The closing and perhaps the best number on the People's Lecture Course comes tomorrow night when General John E. Gordon will deliver his great lecture, "The First Days of the Confederacy." No man is better able to tell of this period of our country's history than General Gordon and no one has the faculty of telling it in any more pleasing manner.

Much interest is being manifested in the lecture of General Gordon's here to-morrow night. The G. A. R. will attend in a body as the guests of the lecture course committee and it is expected that Col. Kimberley will sing before the lecture. General Gordon is one of the few prominent generals of the late war who still lives and while he fought valiantly for the South no man is more loyal to the Union today than he.

The inmates of the Rock County insane asylum enjoyed a pleasant outing Saturday afternoon in the nature of a bob ride which was given them by Supt. Killam. There were three bob loads and the ride included a trip to the city and a treat of candy. The party included old and young of both sexes and everyone seemed to be enjoying the outing thoroughly.

The Thank Offering service of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Court Street M. E. Church will be held in the church parlors on Wednesday afternoon, March 6 at three o'clock. Mrs. L. N. Mrs. Minnie O'Clair

Mrs. Minnie O'Clair, beloved wife of Joseph O'Clair, sacrificed her life on maternity's altar, her death, and that of her infant child, occurring yesterday at the home on Riverside street. Deceased was thirty seven years of age, and her former home was Madison, Iowa. She leaves, besides her husband, three sons, George, Joseph Henry and Bert. A mother, sister and brother are also left to mourn the loss of a good woman. Funeral services will be held from St. Patrick's church tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Mrs. B. J. Kehoe.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. B. J. Kehoe were held from St. Mary's church this morning at 10:30 o'clock. Solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father W. A. Goebel assisted by Dean E. M. McGinnity and Father Harlan of Edgerton. The interment was in Mount Olivet cemetery. The pall bearers were Thomas Kehoe, Lawrence Kehoe, Bert Carren, Richard Carren, Levi Carren and Will McLaughlin.

FINAL SUMMONS TO WILLIAM M. HATCH

WELL KNOWN PIONEER SETTLER OF THIS CITY.

Caught a Cold Last Saturday Which Rapidly Developed into Bronchitis—Was Born in Gilderland, N. Y. Oct. 8, 1815, and Came to Janesville in 1857—Funeral Wednesday.

This noon at 12:17 o'clock the final summons came to William M. Hatch whose death occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank D. Kimball, 151 South Main street, after an illness of but two days' duration.

Mr. Hatch was one of the best known of the early residents of the city. For nearly half a century he had resided on Main street and no man has ever taken a more active interest in the city's progress.

Quietly and unostentatiously he fulfilled the duties life brought to him and just as quietly he slipped away from the scenes of earth.

On Friday last he was in his usual health and on Saturday seemed to be suffering from a severe cold. It rapidly developed into bronchitis although no immediate danger was apprehended until this morning.

William M. Hatch was born at Gilderland, N. Y., Oct. 8, 1815, having thus completed more than his eighty-fifth year. On Nov. 3, 1839 he was married to Miss Julia M. Alford at Carrol, N. Y., and the family came to Janesville in 1857. Mrs. Hatch entered into the life eternal Dec. 14, 1899 and since her death Mr. Hatch has resided with his daughter. He was a carpenter by trade and had finished man's allotted three score years and ten before he retired from active business life.

Besides the daughter, Mrs. Kimball, deceased leaves one son, Martin W. Hatch of Sheboygan, who arrived in the city a few moments after his father's death. Frank Kimball, grandson of the deceased was called home from the University of Wisconsin this morning.

Funeral services will be held from F. D. Kimball's residence Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

MAKE LAWS ON SUNDAY.

Congress Has a Hard Final Struggle.

IN SESSION ALL NIGHT.

Big Fight Over Appropriations for the Exposition—The House Amuses Itself Singing Hymns and Ragtime Melodies While Killing Time Sunday Night.

Washington, D. C., March 4.—Congress was still hard at work at 3 a. m. today trying to finish important work that was left to the end of the session. Both houses put in a large share of Sunday under the legislative fiction that it was still Saturday.

Fight Over the Exposition.
Mr. Alexander (N. Y.) moved to re-cede and concur in the senate amendment carrying $5,000,000 for the St. Louis exposition, $500,000 for the Buffalo exposition and $250,000 for the Charleston exposition. The motion provoked a lively debate. Mr. Payne, the majority floor leader, was particularly vigorous in opposition, declaring that he would rather see this great appropriation bill fail and an extra session precipitated than be "held up" by these three appropriations. He denounced the plea that the Charleston appropriation would cement the good feeling between the north and the south, saying that if loyalty had to be purchased at such a price it was not worth having. Mr. Latimer (S. C.) made vigorous response, contending that Charleston made no plea for special favor, but only for the same treatment that was accorded to St. Louis and Buffalo.

On a rising vote the motion to concur was defeated, 76 to 139.

Sing Hymns and Ragtime Melodies.

At 10:55 p. m. the house took a recess until midnight. During the recess members gathered in groups and sang religious hymns, patriotic airs and ragtime melodies. Their efforts were heartily applauded by the occupants of the galleries. When the recess was over Mr. Loud presented the final conference on the postoffice bill, and it was agreed to. The conference report on the bill to restore certain widows to the pension roll was agreed to. The house then took up the Dailzell resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to visit Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. By a vote of 139 to 84 the resolution was defeated and the house took a recess until 2 o'clock.

May Kill River and Harbor Bill.

Sunday session of the senate began at 3 o'clock, the senate having been in recess since 10:30 Saturday. After a spirited fight both in conference and on the floor of the senate the final conference report on the naval appropriation bill was agreed to, the senate receding from the one contested amendment authorizing the construction of three additional Holland submarine torpedo boats.

A conference report on the general deficiency bill was agreed to without comment.

Under the unanimous consent arrangement many house bills were passed.

At 8:45 last night a recess was taken until 10:30 p. m. Mr. Carter (Mont.) made a vigorous attack upon the river and harbor bills in general and the pending bill in particular. At 2:55 Mr. Carter closed his speech and the bill was then sent back to conference.

Skeleton in Illinois Girl's.

Colorado Springs, Col., March 4.—Fragments of garments worn by her on the day of her disappearance, April 26, 1884, which have just been discovered, prove that the skeleton found in South Cheyenne canon recently was that of Miss Emma Thornblad, 24 years old, who came here from Bloomington, Ill., in 1890. She was a photographer and worked in a fashion-plate gallery. A few months before her disappearance a man named Wright won her love. It developed that he had left a wife in the east. Miss Thornblad, learning this, attempted suicide, but was thwarted. She then said she would not be defeated in the second attempt, which she said she would make in a spot where her remains would never be found. Wright disappeared soon after the girl's disappearance.

Pope 91 Years Old.

New York, March 4.—The pope celebrated his 91st birthday, says a Rome dispatch to the World. Dr. Mazzoni said: "His holiness is in marvelous health. He shows no sign of diminishing vigor, a miraculous thing in a man of his age."

It is said that the pope had a narrow escape from a serious accident while celebrating mass on Wednesday, through the falling of a heavy brass candlestick which had been insecurely placed on the altar.

Fear Armed Strikers.

Chicago, March 4.—Flourishing revolvers and other weapons, twelve striking "buggy pullers" caused a temporary reign of terror in the South Chicago Furnace company's mills at 108th street and Torrence avenue last night and almost caused all work to be stopped. The strikers fled on the approach of Capt. Shipley and twenty-five policemen from the South Chicago station. Policemen remained on guard all night.

Falling Walls Cause Death.

Gas City, Ind., March 4.—Fire destroyed the pottery works owned and operated by D. C. Cox. One man was killed and three others so badly injured that they will probably die.

Shoots Wife and Her Visitor.

Beloit, Wis., March 4.—Homer Payne, aged 45 years, after shooting his wife and Arthur Cady, killed himself in this city. Payne left Beloit last August, returning a few days ago. He had heard that Mrs. Payne wanted a divorce that she might marry Cady, a former boarder. When he found Cady at his home Payne shot at him, sending a bullet through Cady's coat. Then he shot his wife in the arm and in the head. He stepped into an adjoining room, reloaded his revolver, lay down on a couch and shot himself in the head.

New York Alarmed by Smallpox.

New York, March 4.—"There have been nearly 200 cases of smallpox during January and February. The disease is on the increase, and is more dangerous now because it has become scattered over the city. Everybody who hasn't been vaccinated should have it done at once."

Two children stricken with smallpox were removed today from a tenement house on Warren street. Eleven victims of the disease have now been taken from this place. Vaccination has become compulsory within a radius of half a mile of the tenement.

Snaps Pistol in Face of Former Spouse.

Nevada, Mo., March 4.—Maud Weaver, 17 years old, snapped a pistol three times in the face of her divorced husband, C. H. Gough, at the Union depot this morning. She says Gough had threatened to kill her. They were married about two years ago and divorced at the last term of court. Gough is on crutches from a gunshot wound inflicted by his wife's father, J. D. Weaver. Gough lives in Kansas City.

Kills Girl Who Jilted Him.

Kansas City, Mo., March 4.—Angered by her action in breaking their engagement to marry, Bud Taylor, 23 years old, a baseball player, shot and killed Ruth Nollard, 18 years old, on a street in the heart of the business section of the city. Taylor was arrested by the police, who had great difficulty in guarding him from the mob that threatened to lynch him.

SHOOT MEN IN THE RIVER.

The British Kill Seven Boer Bathers.

SURPRISE IN THE ATTACK.

Seven Men Who Go Out to Wash Themselves Kiddled to Death by the Enemy—Dewet and Steyn Escape—Tricks of English Officers.

Cape Town, March 4.—A party of British surprised a number of Boers in bathing near Middelburg, and before the burghers could make their escape seven of them were shot.

Dewet and Steyn Escape.

Colesburg, Cape Colony, March 4.—Fifteen hundred Boers, with whom it is alleged, were General Dewet and former President Steyn, found a spot at Lillietfontein, near Colesburg Bridge, where the Orange river widens and the current is slow, and they all crossed yesterday, both men and horses swimming.

Tricks of British Officers.

London, March 4.—General Dewet lost heavily in men and stores by his incursion into Cape Colony, but he seems to have made a clever escape with the bulk of his commando. Apparently Commandant Hertog crossed the Orange river with him. General Bruce Hamilton, who was pursuing, heard that General Dewet was surrounded at Philippstown, northwest of Colesburg. On arriving there he found the Boers had not been at Philippstown at all, but had doubled back and were struggling across the river at Colesburg. Apparently this is another instance of defective intelligence regarding the doings of the Boers.

The Daily Telegraph has a dispatch from Colesburg dated yesterday, which says: "Our numerous columns are still hunting for Dewet. This place is in a hubbub, and the troops are marching off in various directions to press the pursuit further."

PURSUIT OF DEWET.

Gen. Kitchener Telegraphs the War Office That He Is on the Trail.

London, March 4.—Kitchener cables the war office from Pretoria: "Dewet has been forced north over the Orange river, and is now clear of Cape Colony. Two hundred prisoners have been taken, others, who were stragglers, being captured."

"Eighty men of Kitchener's fighting scouts were attacked by superior numbers, and, after a prolonged fight, and sustaining twenty casualties, surrendered."

The War Office has made a contract with an American merchant to supply 3,000 fellingaxes for the British troops in South Africa. English firms have been unable to make a prompt delivery.

Killed in a Gambling House.

Carbondale, Ill., March 4.—Price Carter was shot and instantly killed by William Sexton near the Brush mine, nine miles from this city. The men had quarreled during the morning and met in the afternoon at a gambling game. Sexton had armed himself and seeing Carter drew his revolver and killed him. Carter some weeks ago attempted to hold up a clerk in this city during business hours and was captured in the attempt. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of wilful murder and Sexton was placed in jail.

OLD SOLDIERS' COLONY

Co operative Agricultural Settlement Has Been Projected—For Homes In Oklahoma.

Wabash, Ind., March 4.—The founding of a co-operative agricultural company of old soldiers, which is expected to have a membership of upward of 21,000 and to occupy a large tract of land in Oklahoma, is the object of an organization, articles of incorporation for which will be filed to-morrow.

In the corporation will be veterans of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Ohio, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and South Dakota. The scheme is already so far advanced that options have been secured on 80,000 acres of land in the southwestern territory.

A committee of seven will be in charge of the colony, one from each of the states represented, and the election of these committeemen will be held at stated intervals. There is no expectation of profit by any individual, it being expected that the gains shall go into the general treasury.

Ten thousand shares are issued at $25 each and all have been taken by veterans who want to improve their condition and secure homes in the new country.

Culliss A Success.

"It was very fine," "splendid." That is all right," "The best I ever saw," were some of the exclamations heard as the crowd left the Court St. M. E. Church last night after W. B. Culliss' illustrated lecture. "The Prodigal Son," was the theme. Mr. Culliss is a fine talker and the illustrations were superb. The excellent singing by the church choir especially the "Rock of Ages," lent greatly to the interest. The service closed with a series of remarkable stereopticon effects entitled the "Flight of the Soul."

Tonight Mr. Culliss will give the first of a series of five brilliant lectures entitled "Through the Yellowstone Park." Precious comic effects. Song: "Break the News to Mother." One hundred stereopticon views will be used besides moving pictures. Commences at 8.
